Apples

Picture Day is Wednesday
October 8!

We are currently working on our apple unit. We have learned the different colors (red, yellow, and green), they grow on trees, they have seeds inside, and many of the ways we eat them. We tasted red yellow and green apples, and voted on which kind we liked the most (red had the most in both classes!). Many of the kids painted apple trees at the art easel. We read one of my favorites from childhood, 10 Apples Up on Top by Dr. Seuss. We also used a balance scale to discover what is heavier than an apple. Next week we will continue our unit, which will conclude with baking Apple Pie Bites for snack!

Butterflies

We just finished learning about the life cycle of a butterfly. We are very excited to observe our caterpillars and hope the butterflies emerge soon.

Electra draws at the science center while looking at the life cycle pieces.

Painting apple trees, playing Apple Memory, sorting apples, and counting stacked apples! So much learning going on!

In the Classroom

Jackson built a chair out of blocks in the Little Gym!

Silas is looking at a book about dinosaurs. Rawr!

Brooklyn, Hailey, Felix, and Grayson work together to paint the leaves for our giant apple tree!
